It is directly mailed to every member of the Chamber, it is also distributed around the region and stocked at a variety of business and retail outlets across the local area. The digital version of the magazine is published online and emailed to our large database of subscribers across West Sussex. The magazine has its own pages on the new Chamber website, and active social media feeds to help grow engagement.

In short, Worthing & Adur Chamber CONNECT is the perfect way to get that message out there and gain more business.

How is Worthing & Adur Chamber Involved?

Chamber CONNECT is owned and run by Worthing and Adur Chamber. The Chamber actively represents the business community on local, regional and strategic levels and wanted to produce a high-quality business publication to represent members and supporting businesses. This led to the development of CONNECT in 2016, which is now one of the best respected business print publications in the local area.

The Chamber is committed to supporting, developing and promoting all Worthing and Adur businesses, large and small. It is known as a vibrant and fast-growing Chamber which encourages businesses to work together for mutual success and inspires our young entrepreneurs to be the voice of tomorrow. The Chamber also champions local industry to secure future investment and growth in our towns. The Chamber is headed up by Chief Executive, Tina Tilley, who is ably supported by Operations Manager, Tracie Davey. Both are heavily involved in the running of Connect.

So how can you get involved?
